

Senate Begins Night Session

Leaders Hope To Break Up Talkathon

Washington, March 8—(AP)—Southern filibusters chucked over a new time-consuming delay today even as administration Democrats scheduled night sessions in an attempt to break up the Senate talkathon.

In high glee, the Dixie legislators sat and listened—and rested their vocal cords—while Senator Cain (R-Wash.) began a heralded 16-hour speech on an entirely different matter.

Cain spoke out against President Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren as chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

The southern filibuster is aimed at blocking an administration attempt to change the Senate rules so that filibusters can be curbed. Under the proposed change, a two-thirds vote could limit debate on any subject. Southern opponents of the change because they want to use the filibuster weapon to defeat the Truman civil rights bills.

Even before Cain began his long attack, the southerners got another respite. Senator Watkins (R-Utah) spent nearly two hours on the Utah before Cain took over. The Utah senator renewed a demand that the text of the proposed North Atlantic treaty be made available to the Senate immediately.

While these two speeches were going on, the southerners could afford to sit back and rest. Administration leaders thus suffered a setback in their none-too-hopeful plan to wear down the filibuster forces with night sessions, starting tonight.

There were reports that the leaders, convinced they can't win, are looking for a graceful way to bring up some other measure on Mr. Truman's legislative program.

In any event, southern opponents showed no signs of dismay over the prospect of long after-dark sessions. Senator Russell (D-Ga.), captain of the filibuster team, promptly lined up his battery of speakers—at least 19—and instructed them to load ammunition for a day's firing each. Since each senator can speak twice, the Dixie bloc could keep the debate rolling along well into April, at least.

SAY KIN OF SOLDIERS IN CHINA ARE SAFE

Washington, March 8—(AP)—The army said today that all families of U.S. servicemen have been removed from areas threatened by communist invaders in China.

About 1,000 dependents and their household goods were moved to safer zones.

Most of the evacuees are members of families of men attached to the American joint military advisory group headquartered at Nanking.

Legislature Will Vote On Probe Of Chicago Colleges

Springfield, Ill., March 8—(AP)—An investigation of subversive activities at the University of Chicago and Roosevelt College in Chicago is expected to be voted tomorrow by the Illinois legislature.

Republican Senate leaders predicted the executive committee and later the full Senate will put its okay on the inquiry, already endorsed by the House.

Rep. G. William Horsley (R-Springfield) demanded the investigation last week after a crowd of hissing and booing students protested against bills to outlaw communism in the state. He said they didn't have the "clean cut look" of American youth.

Horsley said today the proposed inquiry by the legislature's seditious activities commission probably would take two or three weeks.

To finance it, he offered a $2,500 appropriation bill which the House promptly moved along for a possible passage vote soon.

Officials of the two schools have said they are confident an investigation would fail to show evidence of communistic indoctrination at their institutions.

Sen. Cain Blasts Naming Wallgren To Head NSRB

Washington, March 8—(AP)—Launching a speech billed to last 16 hours, Senator Cain (R-Wash.) told the Senate today that Mon C. Wallgren belongs "in the limbo of forgotten politicians."

Wallgren is President Truman's nominee for chairman of the national security resources board—a job Cain has labeled "one of the four most important positions in the world."

Cain delivered a blistering attack on the record of Wallgren, a former senator who was defeated for reelection as Washington state governor last year.

He said Wallgren's friendship with the president is his only qualification for the job. As NSRB chairman, Wallgren would have the task of mobilizing the nation's industry in event of war.

Dulles Says Russia At Present Is Not Planning For War

Cleveland, March 8—(AP)—John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, said today that "so far as it is humanly possible to judge" Russia does not at present plan to go to war.

He told representatives of more than 35,000 American Protestants that he knows no responsible high official of any government who believes Russia "now plans conquest by open military aggression."

Dulles, long a powerful Republican voice in the making of America's bipartisan foreign policy, said the military has become far too strong in carrying it out.

In the vital areas of Germany and Japan, he said, military judgment under the war department has been "practically decisive." He continued: "If the world passes into the blackness of another war, our leadership cannot escape a large measure of responsibility."

The conference of 400 delegates from 87 denominations and allied religious bodies opened here today to examine major issues threatening department of international justice world peace. It is sponsored by the and goodwill of the federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

House Committee Votes Millions To Fight Diseases

Washington, March 8—(AP)—Millions of dollars more in federal funds to fight cancer, heart diseases and mental illness were voted today by the House Appropriations committee.

In each instance, the committee recommended a great appropriation than had been asked in President Truman's budget.

The funds were set up in a $2,211,794,085 labor department—federal security agency appropriation bill to be debated by the House tomorrow. The measure also carries money to finance the national mediation board and the railroad retirement board.

The federal security agency gets the bulk of the money—$1,478,426,585 of which $1,058,000,000 is to match state payments of old-age assistance and aid to dependent children and blind persons.

On the health front, the committee recommended: For cancer research and control, $16,400,000 in cash and $5,000,000 in contract authority.

For the National Heart Institute, $7,725,000 cash and $3,850,000 in contract authority.

U.S. C. Of C. Asks Congress To Keep Taft-Hartley Law

Washington, March 8—(AP)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce asked Congress today not only to preserve the Taft-Hartley act but to enlarge it.

A Democrat congressman promptly sailed into the businessman's organization as a bunch of "rugged individualists" who want unions regulated, not business.

The second day of House hearings on the Truman administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law sounded like a replay of the Senate Labor committee's hearings on the same subject.

Odom Ends Record Flight

TRIES TO CUT OFF OWN LEGS WITH KNIFE

Toronto, March 8—(AP)—Learl Polischuk, an attractive 23-year-old brunet, tried today to hack off her legs above the knee with a saw-toothed bread knife.

One of her legs was amputated in a hospital and she has had several blood transfusions. Authorities described her condition as "poor."

Herbert Tandy, a roomer, said he found her covered with blood and shouting: "Dear Lord, I am coming."

King George Will Undergo Operation To Cure Ailments

London, March 8—(AP)—King George VI will undergo an operation soon in the hope of improving the blood flow to his right leg, Buckingham Palace said tonight.

This was the first official word that the ailing 53-year-old king would undergo surgical treatment since the announcement three and a half months ago that he was suffering from an arterial ailment of the legs.

The operation, not a common one, is known as a lumbar sympathectomy. It has been performed in dealing with stoppages of the arteries for about 25 years.

A Palace bulletin said the operation will be "at an early date." The British Press association's court correspondent said he understood it would take place during the next week.

The operation consists of making a small incision in the right lumbar region—the loins—to cut the nerve controlling the blood supply to the foot. This results in a dilation of the blood channels and freer flow of blood.

East St. Louis Asks State Funds For Flood Control

Springfield, Ill., March 8—(AP)—A delegation of East St. Louis officials today requested state funds for the hillside flood control project involving construction of a 20-mile channel to divert storm water runoff from a 100-mile area in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Preliminary estimates indicate the completed project would cost $16,000,000.

The delegation conferred with Charles P. Casey, state public works director, and Thomas B. Casey, chief state waterway engineer. Heading the group was Daniel F. Foley, president of the east side levee and sanitary district.

Casey said he will ask Governor Stevenson to authorize the waterways division to look into the plan. Foley said the district has no funds to finance the project and has reached its limit of building power for such purposes.

Defense Pictures Axis Sally As Poor Defenseless Woman

Washington, March 8—(AP)—The defense today pictured Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gillars as a "poor defenseless woman" who had no broad- cast propaganda for Nazi Germany or risk being shot.

Says 36 Hrs. In Airplane 'Was Easy'

Teterboro, N. J., March 8—(AP)—Lanky Bill Odom broke the world's non-stop distance record for light planes today by stretching $75 worth of gasoline from Honolulu to Teterboro—a distance of 5,000 miles.

"It was easy," the clean shaven, immaculately dressed Odom said. He made the remarks as he stepped from his single-engine plane for the first time after leaving Hickam Field, Oahu, T. H., 36 hours before.

The 29-year-old former World War 2 ferry pilot glided his tiny plane onto a runway at Teterboro airport at 11:06 a.m. (CST). A minute earlier he had soared past the control tower to record the official end of the flight.

Teterboro is four miles west of New York City, across the Hudson river. The Metropolis' skyscrapers were visible as Odom swooped onto the field in brilliant sunshine.

It was Odom's second attempt to come non-stop from Honolulu to Teterboro in his 185-horsepower Beechcraft Bonanza, "Walkie Beech."

Bad weather forced an end to that first flight in January. Odom landed at Oakland, Calif., some 3,000 miles short of his goal but still bettering the old record set by two Russians in 1937.

Odom's distance was 2,401 statute miles. Doffing his smart grey homburg to a crowd of some 1,500, Odom stepped briskly from his plane and said there was nothing to the flight.

"I feel just like a business man coming home on an easy trip," he said.

Wears 'Lucky' Suit He wore a clean white shirt, red and white tie and a grey plaid suit. He said the suit was his "lucky one" that he wore when he broke the world record for around-the-world flights by circling the globe in 73 hours, 5 minutes and 11 seconds in 1937.

Odom, who came into prominence two years ago on his first world-girdling flight with Chicago Pen Manufacturer Milton Reynolds, said he was interested in a new global flight—this time touching at both the North and South Poles.

The career pilot said he was worried only twice during his grueling solo flight from Honolulu. Once was when he found ice forming on his wings over the Rocky mountains. The second time was when his engine suddenly went dead over Chicago.

The Chicago incident, he said, was the result of an exhausted gas tank. He said he was talking into his microphone at the time and didn't notice that one tank had run dry.

He said he switched tanks quickly but not until the red and silver plane had dropped into a cloud bank. "I had a helluva time finding an opening again," he said.

Odom landed with 14 gallons of the original 288 gallons of gas still in his tank. Three extra tanks had been fitted to the plane. Odom said that was the only extra equipment the sleek monoplane needed.

Bill To Extend Rent Control Made Ready For House

Washington, March 8—(AP)—A 15-month rent control extension bill today was cleared for House action later this week. But it was an open question whether the curbs will be renewed before their expiration March 31.

The showdown battle in the House is slated to open Thursday, with a final vote on the controversial measure likely Friday. This was the legislative procedure approved today by the rules committee.

But the ultimate fate of the rent control law hinges on the Senate's legislative timetable—now far behind schedule as a result of the filibuster by southern Democrats against a proposed rules change to bar filibusters.

Until that fight is settled, the Senate can't get around to the rent dispute which is still stalled in a Senate banking subcommittee.

House Republican leaders meanwhile, sought to line up support for a proposal of the GOP policy committee to continue rent control for only 90 days.

60 Of First 80 Called As Jurors For Reds Excused

New York, March 8—(AP)—Sixty of the 80 members of the first jury panel called in the trial of 11 U. S. communist leaders had been excused as court adjourned today.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina brought in a second group of 30 persons as it became obvious the first panel might not supply the needed jurors.

All of those excused pleaded that service in a lengthy trial would cause extreme hardship in their business or personal life.

One tatesman, Joseph Young, an insurance man, gave the "time element" as his first reason for wanting to be excused but added: "My second reason is my absolute contempt of the individuals here charged."

He was waved from the jury box and reprimanded by the Judge who told the other panel members: "It is not proper for jurors to make such statements, which I consider outbursts. It is not fair to the defendants and it is not fair to the government."

Nehru Says India Will Avoid Joining Any Power Bloc

New Delhi, India, March 8—(AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today India can help prevent another world war by avoiding a lineup with any world power or power bloc.

"The only possible (Indian) foreign policy x x x in the interests of world peace," Nehru told the legislative assembly, "is not to get entangled, militarily or otherwise, with any power or groups of powers."

Referring to the dominion's future relations with the British commonwealth, the prime minister said: "India naturally and inevitably will become, in the next few months, an independent, sovereign republic. She never accepts the slightest degree of dependency on any foreign authority."

More than a year before India obtained dominion status Aug. 15, 1947, British Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons that, "in our view, she has the right" to choose full independence. He said "the British commonwealth and empire is not bound together by the chains of external compulsion."

4 Clergy Get Life Sentence

TO BOMBARD SHIP WITH ATOMIC RAYS

London, March 8—(AP)—The admiralty disclosed today plans to bombard a royal navy cruiser with atomic rays to test the British navy's atom bomb defenses.

The tests are planned this summer in the English channel. Navy scientists on pontoon rafts will shoot gamma rays at the cruiser Arethusa to see what is needed to defend a warship in an atomic bomb attack.

Says Fact-Finders Asked To Settle Railroad Dispute

Chicago, March 8—(AP)—A railroad spokesman said today a presidential fact-finding board has been asked to settle, once and for all, the long-standing wage-hour feud between the carriers and 16 unions.

The spokesman said the board's decision this time will be binding and final. Union representatives could not be reached immediately for comment.

Committees representing the two disputants asked the board to rule on any points in disagreement between them. The new hearings will begin tomorrow afternoon.

A major issue in disagreement, the railroad spokesman said, is the application of a staggered 40-hour work week.

Both sides, the spokesman said, are agreed the board's ruling shall be binding. The spokesman declined use of his name.

'Slow Time' Order In Indiana Causes Concern In Cities

Indianapolis, March 8—(AP)—Upstate Hoosiers took an upstage attitude toward Indiana's new "slow time" law.

Officials of some northern Indiana cities were already figuring how to get around the law, which makes central standard time the only official time for the state.

Governor Schricker has signed the bill passed by the legislature to make the slow time official. An emergency clause made the law effective when the governor signed it.

Mayor Russell Hileman said Michigan City would get around the law by passage of an ordinance putting the city hall on an 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. schedule. The clocks will be left alone but the working hours will be changed, the mayor explained.

Laporte Superior Court Judge Robert S. Baker, who sits in Michigan City, said he would follow the mayor's lead and Dudley Jewell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said factories and business houses plan to operate on the hour earlier schedule.

Home Fire Causes Death Of Mother And Two Children

Charleston, Ill., March 8—(AP)—A mother and her two small children were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed their home.

Others Get 1-18 Years In Prison

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 8—(AP)—A Bulgarian court convicted 15 Protestant ministers today on charges ranging from treason to rumor-mongering and sentenced four of them to life imprisonment.

Prison terms of from one to 15 years were assigned the others. Fines were levied against all 15 and several defendants were sentenced to loss of their political and civil rights.

None appealed, so the sentences took effect immediately. The Moscow-trained prosecutor Dimitar Georgiev, also declared himself satisfied. He had demanded hanging for the four leaders of the group members of the Supreme Council of the United Evangelical churches of Bulgaria, but the court did not agree. All escaped the death penalty.

One of the four, the Rev. Vassil Zlakov, 48, drew four individual prison sentences, including two for life. However, these and other multiple sentences, in the case are to be served concurrently and the average Bulgarian lifer, with time off for good behavior, is freed after 15 years.

As a motion picture crew filmed the scene, Zlakov burst into tears and declared: "I am content. I promise to work with all my strength to build the new man in myself and to help in the construction of our socialist republic."

Thanks Court For 'Mercy' The others made similar declarations. One, the Rev. Ladin Poyov, thanked the court heartily "for the mercy you showed me."

Presiding judge, 38-year-old Constantine Unliev, read the sentences in a 55-minute session. A huge plaster bust of Communist Premier Georgi Dimitrov was the dominating figure in the small courtroom.

The sentences were declared "a travesty on justice" by Bishop Paul Garber of the Geneva area of the Methodist church, who has previously denied Bulgarian government charges that foreign church contacts were used for espionage purposes. Bishop Garber said "the Christian church will live on long after communism has passed into the discard."

Undeclared life sentences for the following chief defendants: Zlakov, head of the Congregational church, accused of heading a spy net for Britain and the United States, also given 15 years for incitement against the government and five years for spreading rumors.

The Rev. Yanko Ivanov, 48, head of the Methodist church. The Rev. Nikola Naumov, 49, head of the Baptist church. The Rev. Georgi Chervnev, 46, head of the Pentecost church.

Each was fined 1,000,000 leva ($3,570), and sentenced to confiscation of all property and loss of civil rights. The other sentences were: The Rev. Lambri Mishkov, 41, Congregationalist, 15 years for spying three years for spreading rumors, a fine of 250,000 leva ($890).

The Rev. Georgi Vassiev, 48, Baptist, same as Mishkov. The Rev. Haraon Popov, Pentecostal, 15 years for spying, three years for spreading rumors, a fine of 425,000 leva ($15,170) for black marketing.

The governor appointed Pat Kelly, 56-year-old retired Chicago fire department battalion chief, as state fire marshal, succeeding John Craig of Lewistown.

SOVIET ARMY DESERTIONS DON'T MEAN REVOLT, BUT SHOW DOUBT

The Army has just got around to releasing the four-month-old story of a young Russian flyer who landed a stolen Soviet Air Force plane on a Japanese airfield and announced to American authorities that he was fed up with communism. He said he wanted to become an American citizen, and it is likely that he was telling the truth.

The Army has had its eye on the young man since November. And it would scarcely seem necessary for the Soviet government to deliver its agents into the hands of the American military, anyway. So let us take young Sgt. Vladimir Barashkov at his word.

He is not the first Russian deserter to find refuge with the American Army. His escape, like that of the two flyers who landed in the American zone of Austria, was simply one of the more spectacular means of getting out. To us his motive is much more interesting than his mode of travel.

There are many reasons why a soldier goes "over the hill." But no Russian soldier should want to desert to the Americans—not if Soviet propaganda is functioning as it was meant to. The Russian soldier has been taught, from his earliest school days, that the fate of the common man is pretty grim in the land of monopoly-capitalist exploiters. Yet Barashkov and others like him headed for American-held territory when their chance came. Why?

It is said that you don't miss what you have never had. But that is plainly not so. If it were we should still be living in the feudalism of a thousand years ago. Mankind did miss self-government and individual liberty and personal dignity, though it never had had them. That is why we have them today. If men didn't miss what they never have had, there wouldn't have been a Russian revolution.

Barashkov, who is 23, had never been outside the Soviet Union before he made his break. Yet he had talked to older men, veterans of the European campaigns, men who had been on wartime missions to the United States. He learned from them that things were considerably better abroad than he had been led to believe, and considerably worse at home than he had been taught.

How many more Barashkovs there are in Russia we don't know, but there must be many. The Soviet government had to expose hundreds of thousands of its citizen-soldiers to the delightful contamination of "capitalism" in order to pursue and beat the Nazis. Since then a lot of them must have weighed the evidence of their own eyes against the contradictory teachings of the Soviet system. They have wondered and they have talked, as the older men talked to Barashkov.

This does not mean that a revolt is brewing against the powerful discipline of the Kremlin. But it can mean that the seeds of doubt have been planted in a lot of Russian minds, and that slow growth of wisdom may one day spring from them. Few Barashkovs may make their daring escapes. But there are many who will envy the adventuresome ones, and who will question their government's tireless insistence that communism means utopia and peace, and that all else represents misery and war.

Boyle's Column

But Who Ever Hears Of A Comedian's Wife

BY GEORGE TUCKER
For Hal Boyle

New York—(AP)—Life is a zany business for a girl who spends all her time with comedians.

After working with Danny Kaye Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle, Bob Hope, Ralph Morgan, and Red Skelton, Georgia Gibbs has found this out.

"They're fun, but I'd never marry one," Georgia Gibbs said. "You'd have to laugh at all their jokes, and be a straight man the rest of your life."

There's another reason, too. "Everybody hears about comedians. But who ever hears of a comedian's wife?"

Georgia Gibbs, known as "her Nibs," is a tiny redhead from Worcester, Mass.

Part Of Her Business As Danny Kaye's sparring partner, his eerie behavior on stage is part of her business.

"He changes his routine anytime, anywhere, without prior notice to anybody. Maybe he roams the audience for food, picking up a banana here, a bag of peanuts there. I've seen him hold up a show half an hour."

Of Bob Hope Miss Gibbs remembers: "Bob is restless. Like a fight referee. He says, 'come out punching. Punch hard. Don't lag.' Sometimes he sounds breathless and excited but he isn't excited. That's just his way. His gags sound impromptu and up to the minute, as if he's just thought of them. But they're carefully rehearsed. He's like a cat, too; always lands on his feet. He has two or three gags for every situation."

It was Jimmy Durante who introduced her one night as "Miss Gibbs, her Nibs"—and the name stuck.

Eddie Cantor is quieter. "Eddie Cantor, he's quieter. He'll sit down and block out a joke. He'll test it until it's perfect. He knows when to laugh, and when not to laugh. Gags just don't happen. They may seem that way, but you know they're coming. And you sweat them out."

She says Red Skelton is more like Danny Kaye than anyone she knows in radio.

"He'll tell a gag and then do a visual thing for a delayed laugh. Danny is visual."

Miss Gibbs is five feet, one inch, a circumstance that obliges her to wear six-inch heels on the stage and causes her to cry, "oh why couldn't I be tall."

Five Relatives, Church Named In Challans Will

Several relatives and the Durbin Methodist church are named beneficiaries under terms of the will of the late William Challans of Waverly, which has been filed for probate.

Mr. Challans bequeathed residence property in Waverly to his brother, Robert Challans and wife, Annie Challans, for their lifetime, with directions that at their deaths it become the property of a niece, Ethel Stice.

He left $500 to the board of trustees of Durbin church.

The remainder of the estate was bequeathed to a brother, Charles H. Challans, and his wife, Nora Challans. Charles H. Challans was named as executor.

The will was made July 17, 1944, with Gladys L. Shumaker and Oscar C. Zachary as witnesses.

Four children were named beneficiaries of the estate of the late Mrs. Stella Hayercraft of Franklin, in her will which has been filed for probate. They are Mrs. Mary Alice Gordon, William Hugh Hayercraft, Dorothy May Hayercraft and James Alan Hayercraft.

Mrs. Hayercraft's will, dated Jan. 2, 1949, appointed John Gordon executor. It was witnessed by Alan Kepinger and Charles Wallbaum.

Rev. Hulan Announces Resignation As Pastor Of Central Christian

Announcement of his resignation as pastor of Central Christian church was made by the Rev. Roy S. Hulan in a letter read before his congregation Sunday morning.

Rev. Hulan has served the church as pastor for eight years, with the exception of two years, when the congregation granted him a leave of absence to become chaplain in the United States Navy.

His resignation becomes effective May 1. Mr. Hulan is to become the minister of the Ninth Street Christian church in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, one of the historical churches of the Disciples of Christ, having sent the first missionary from that communion to Africa. The unusual thing about this missionary was that he was a slave who had just recently been freed.

REV. ROY S. HULAN

The church is among the ten leading Christian churches of Kentucky where there are nearly seven hundred churches of that fellowship. Mr. Hulan will have a staff of two full time workers to aid him in the work of the Hopkinsville church.

Mr. Hulan, his wife and two sons, moved to this community from Rome, Georgia, in April of 1941. During the intervening years there have been 600 new people added to the membership of the church. The local budget has increased from $9,329.69 in 1941 to $27,203.81 in 1948. Contributions to the world causes of the church outside of Jacksonville have increased from $1,082.52 in 1941 to $9,575.82 in 1948.

Range Of Services

Mr. Hulan has been recognized by his denomination by being selected chairman of the important national committee on military and veterans services and a member of the board of managers of the United Christian Missionary society as well as a member of the committee on recommendations of the international convention of the Disciples of Christ. He is at present a member of the board of directors of the Illinois Christian Missionary society and chairman of the committee on student relations of that society. He is chairman of publicity on the board of directors of the Illinois Christian Home and is a past president of the Jacksonville Ministerial association and at present is the secretary of that organization. He represents the Disciples of Illinois on the commission on chaplaincy for state institutions. He is past chaplain of the local post of the American Legion.

Mr. Hulan is a member of the board of directors of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club and has been active in all worthy community activities, serving in all local drives for funds for such activities as the proposed New Passavant Memorial area hospital, Red Cross, Community Chest, and Civic Music association.

In Navy 22 Months

During the twenty-two months Mr. Hulan served in the Navy he was stationed for eight months in the fifth naval district at Norfolk, Virginia, and attached to the United States Coast Guards, having the special duty of visiting fifty-four life boat stations over a coast line of 400 miles where there were no roads and all travel had to be by jeep and small water craft. He was then transferred to the USS Admiral Hugh Rodman, one of the largest transports in the Pacific and made several crossings to the Philippines and Japan transporting over 5,000 troops each trip. He returned to his pastorate here in April, 1946. The Rev. William Askew, now of Lawrenceville, served as effective ad-interim minister.

Mrs. Hulan serves as superintendent of the primary department of the Central Christian Church School, has been chairman of the junior Red Cross, and finds fellowship and other activity in a local chapter of P.E.O.

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller

THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, deeply involved in a murder mystery, check over their recent unpleasant experiences and decide that of all the suspects, the person who must have committed two recent killings is Mr. Trim, who is supposed to represent a tooth-paste company. The Conovers won their desert vacation trip, on which the murder occurred, on a quiz show sponsored by the firm. Trim, in response to Johnny's telephone call, meets them at the edge of the resort town.

XXXII

TRIM turned out the car lights and shut off the engine. John Henry could hear a car door open and close, then the sound of footsteps crunching in the dirt, coming closer.

"Where's Mr. Conover?" Trim asked as he approached.

"He's—he'll be back in a minute," Sin stammered.

"Well, I certainly was worried about you two, Mrs. Conover, I don't mind saying," Mr. Trim was saying.

"Let's get off the road," Sin managed. "Here, behind these bushes—over here."

"Say, but I was relieved to get your phone call. I just knew you two couldn't be involved in what happened this afternoon," the little man continued. John Henry traced himself for the spring. Through the leaves, he could see the bobbing outlines of their two heads as they trudged toward him. Trim seemed to be wearing a three-cornered hat.

"We've been worrying, too," Sin said, glancing nervously toward the bushes. They were two yards away now.

One yard.

John Henry leaped like a tiger for Mr. Trim's throat.

The small man let out a yelp of pure terror and jumped backward.

John Henry's hands missed the scrawny throat and fastened instead on a wide leather belt. The two men crashed heavily to earth and rolled toward the ditch. Sin was jumping up and down and shouting encouragement to her husband. "He's got a gun, Johnny! He's got a gun!"

TRIM wiggled away and got up on his knees. John Henry tackled him around the waist again. A wicked hand scrambled at the leather belt, trying to draw a long pistol from it. As though he had nothing else to think about, John Henry suddenly realized the significance of the cocked hat. Like Faye Jordan, Mr. Trim was all ready to go to the costume ball. He was dressed like a pirate, complete with skull and crossbones cockade on his hat. The long pistol was wood, with a cork on a string in the muzzle.

Trim brought the wooden gun up as if to use it as a club. John Henry's free hand snaked out and hit the other man's arm. The pistol sailed off harmlessly to clank on the running board of the car.

Sin screamed. Mr. Trim had slid away again and was scampering off down the road. John Henry loped after him and launched his stocky body into a flying tackle. The two men collapsed like a falling tree and slid along, face down in the sandy earth.

Sin ran up. "Johnny, Johnny," she was sobbing.

John Henry got up, panting, and brushed off his hands. "I'm okay, Sin. Lie right on top of him." Mr. Trim still lay crumpled on the ground.

"Is he—" Sin whispered.

"Nope. Just knocked out for a minute. He's still breathing." John Henry knelt and scooped up the lipp figure in the pirate costume.

"Come on." He strode back to the shelter of the mesquite. Sin tagged along, staying close behind. The moon, new-risen in the east, painted the scene in silver.

"I'll pass out his things, Sin. You go through them and look for the combination. Feel the linings especially."

"Hurry, honey—before he wakes up."

"Don't worry about that. Just make sure you don't miss anything," her husband said grimly.

HE began to go through the little man's costume. Mr. Trim was breathing heavily, his mouth wide open. John Henry decided to start at the top and passed out the cocked hat for Sin's examination. Then, after quick arithmetic, he divided the task in half. Over the bushes to his wife, he tossed the long dark-blue coat and the paper's pretty small. Feel carefully." On his side of the leafy barrier, John Henry searched the white ruffled shirt, the leather hiking boots with black oilcloth tops, the long white stockings, the shorts and undershirt.

The combination was not there. "Find anything?" he called to Sin.

"Not a thing," she said, throwing down the wide leather belt.

"Maybe he wasn't hiding it. Let's look in the obvious places. Try his wallet."

"There wasn't any."

"Maybe it fell out when I tossed them over."

Sin poked noisily around in the underbrush. "Here it is. I found it."

"Good," muttered John Henry and felt around inside Trim's boots again.

Sin let out a horrified cry.

"Find it?" John Henry burst through the bushes. Sin was standing by the car. She had turned on the parking lights to aid her search. In her hands she held a black-leather wallet and she stared at it with stunned eyes.

"What is it, Sin?" John Henry grabbed her arm.

She looked his way and her eyes got wider and wider. "Johnny, look at this!" Sin handed him the wallet. He took it and held it up to the light. Something gleamed back, something small and golden.

It was a badge, and the lettering on it said FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION.

Whos And Whats Of Estimated Tax Return

(Editor's note: this is the last of a series of articles explaining who must do what about his 1948 (or 1949) income tax return. The deadline is March 15.)

By James Marlow

Washington, March 8—(AP)—The estimated tax return. What is it? Who must do something about it?

Some people, besides filing their 1948 income tax return by March 15 and paying up any tax owed, must—Also by March 15 file an estimated tax return—it's called a "declaration of estimated tax"—on their 1949 income and pay on that, too.

Who's in this group? Two kinds of people:

1. Those, like landlords and doctors, who won't have any tax at all withheld from their 1949 income.

2. Those, like wage-earners and salaried people, who'll have some tax, but not the full tax for 1949, withheld from their pay.

Because "estimate" means just what it says, the people in the two groups must do this by March 15:

1. Estimate what their 1949 income will be and what the tax on it should be.

Pay-As-You-Go System

2. Then start paying—in four installments—the difference between the tax withheld from them, if any, and the full tax they'll owe for 1949. The other payments are June 15, Sep. 15, and Jan. 15, 1950.

The idea is to have everyone on a pay-as-you-go system. Those with full tax withheld from them, will have paid in full by the end of 1949.

Those who must make an estimated return and four installment payments should be paid up in full around the year's end, too.

If you make $600 or more this year, and no tax is withheld, you must make an estimated return.

(Because that income is so low, you may not owe any tax or have to make any payments. Still, you must make a return.)

If tax is regularly withheld from your pay—but you'll get more than $100 income from which no tax is withheld—you must file a return and figure whether you have to make those installment payments. Generally, employers withhold full tax on their employees' pay up to $4,500, plus $600 for each exemption claimed.

No Need To File Estimate

Example: Jones, single, will get $5,100 in salary. He doesn't have to file an estimate. Full tax is withheld on the first $4,500 of his pay, and then he gets the next $600 as his personal exemption.

But Smith, single, with a $9,000 salary, must file an estimate and start paying the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax owed.

Adams, married, has $5,700. No estimate for him. Full tax is withheld from him up to $4,500. Then he gets $1,200 in exemptions, $600 for himself, $600 for his wife.

If you're wondering what all this means, do this:

You know what you get a week or a month in pay and how much tax is being withheld from you every week or month.

So figure how much pay you'll get this year and how much tax will be withheld from it.

Use Form 1040-ES

Then—previous stories explained how to do it—figure what your full tax on your income for the year should be.

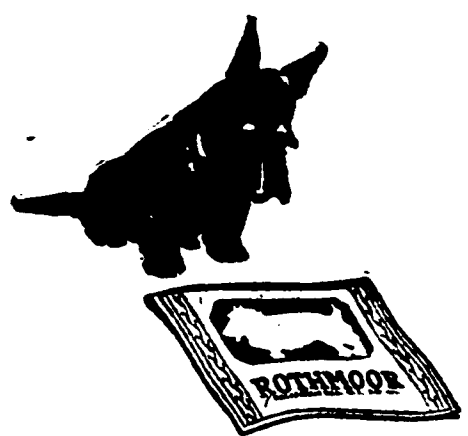

If you find you'll owe more tax than will be withheld from you, then you must file an estimate and start paying by March 15 the first of the four installments on the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax owed.

File your estimate on form 1040-ES. It's a very brief form, printed in blue ink. On the back of it are the same table and formula you used with the 1040 long or short forms in figuring your 1948 tax.

Be sure in figuring your estimated tax that you claim all your exemptions and the standard deductions explained in previous stories.

And when you hand over, or mail, your estimated return to the internal revenue collector, enclose with it the first of the four payments on any estimated tax you owe.

Boyhood Friends Of 60 Years Ago Swap Experiences

Many chuckles and stories about the good old days were enjoyed last week by T. B. Reeve of Manhattan Beach, Calif., and Van D. Stout of Kansas City, Mo., according to an article which appeared March 2 in the Redondo Beach Daily Breeze.

The California newspaper explained that the two men were boyhood friends, having grown up on adjoining farms near Jacksonville, Ill., but they had not seen each other for more than 60 years.

Not long ago Byron Smith, a nephew of Mr. Reeve, who works in the post office at Phoenix, Ariz., made the contact. Mr. Stout is spending the winter in Phoenix, and when he learned the whereabouts of his old friend, he went to Manhattan Beach for a visit.

Mr. Reeve, a former employee of the Jacksonville post office, resides at 421-27th street, Manhattan Beach, Calif.

GRAIN PRICES FAIL TO SUSTAIN RALLY,
END UP LOWER

Chicago, March 8.—(P)—Grains rallied late in today's morning session, but the rally was not sustained, and prices drifted back to around the day's low shortly before the close.

New York Stock
Market

New York, March 8.—(P)—Stock buyers operated on a highly selected basis in today's market.

Price changes, on the whole, were pretty well divided between small gains and losses, with a little leaning toward the plus side.

Brokers did only a moderate amount of business. Turnover was at the rate of around 800,000 shares for the full session.

A few issues swung outside the narrow price pattern. Up 1 to 4 points at one time were Douglas Aircraft, Atlantic Gulf & West Indies, and Superior Oil of California.

Also ahead most of the day were Youngtown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Western Union, Owens-Illinois, Great Northern preferred, Chesapeake & Ohio, Texas Co., Gulf Oil, and Phelps Dodge.

Sticky spots included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, Illinois Central and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Corporate bonds moved narrowly, U. S. governments held firm in over-the-counter dealings.

Eyes Payments
To France

New Delhi.—(P)—The government of India in paying the French-Indian government $340,000 annually in fulfillment of certain agreements and conventions entered into with the French government in India.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister, told questioners in parliament the government was considering "whether under present conditions it will be advantageous to continue all or any of them."

During the war, the government of India took over the management of the customs for the French in India and paid them a lump sum of 620,000 rupees annually.

The French government agreed not to produce salt in its possessions in India in lieu of an annual compensation of 400,000 rupees. The government of India managed their posts and telegraphs, paying them 50,000 rupees for their loss of postal revenue. Another 18,000 rupees are paid to them for letting the supply of opium remain in the hands of India.

Nehru said no payment was made to the Portuguese government in India.

The French hold five settlements in India, with an aggregate area of 202 square miles and a population of 400,000. Smaller still are the Portuguese possessions, with headquarters at Goa on the Arabian Sea coast.

Nehru said "there is only one future for these possessions—merger with the rest of India. Geographically, politically, strategically, economically and culturally there is no alternative."

"But," Nehru added, "the government of India is trying to solve this peacefully and with the goodwill of the foreign powers in India."

BRITISH TOLD TRADITION IS HANDICAP
London.—(P)—Prof. Willis R. Worlich, chief of the scientific office of the American Embassy, thinks Britain would be more prosperous if its people knew less of tradition. He said so at an Engineering Industries Association luncheon.

"Britain might need to place less reliance on history and more responsibility on her creative young men," he declared. "That has brought disaster."

B.A.A. Playoffs To Get Underway On March 22

New York, March 8 — (P) — The Basketball Association of America playoffs, with a player's pool of $70,000 will get underway Tuesday, March 22.

League President Maurice Podoloff announced the starting date yesterday and also a breakdown on how the $70,000 will be sliced up.

The teams that finished first in the eastern and western divisions will receive $5,000 apiece and the runner-ups $1,500 each. Washington already has clinched the eastern crown while Rochester, winner of 11 straight games, tops the west by two games.

Teams finishing in the first four positions in each division will participate in the playoffs.

Series "A" of the playoffs, in which $28,000 will be divided, involves eight teams. The pennant winners in each division will tangle with the fourth place teams while the runner-ups tackle the third place fives. The winners in this best two out of three series will collect $4,000 and the losers $3,000.

The victors of the semi-final or Series "B" will receive $4,500 and the eliminated teams $3,500. This series also is a best two out of three affair. The final series will be a best four out of seven bet with the champions walking off with $7,500 and the vanquished with $5,500.

Say A. L. Financed Dewitts' Purchase Of The Browns

Sarasota, Fla., March 8 — (P) — A usually reliable baseball source today said the American League financed the Dewitt Brothers' purchase of the controlling interest in the St. Louis Browns a month ago.

Bill and Charlie Dewitt, who on Feb. 2, bought the 56 per cent of the stock which Richard C. Muckerman owned, received a loan of $300,000 from the American League, the source said. There is no restriction in the baseball code against such action.

In all, he said, the Dewitts gained the majority stock for $935,000, of which they did not pay a single cent out of their own pockets. He added: "The Dewitts paid off a $200,000 note owed by the Brown management with part of the money they got from the American League. They also made their initial payment of $100,000 to Muckerman. He still holds the rest of the notes, totaling $635,000."

"The American League has become the first mortgagee. As I understand it, the league must get its money first before Muckerman can begin to collect. If the Dewitts can't pay, the league can take over the franchise."

"One of the provisions the Dewitts had to accept in order to be granted the loan was that they couldn't sell another player to a rival club without the consent of the league. That probably is why they were forced to back down on the sale of Bobby Dillinger and Gerry Frisby after getting feelers from several teams."

The informant predicted that Dewitts may move the franchise to the Pacific Coast in a couple of years.

Controversy Rages Over Revamping Plan For Schools

Springfield, Ill., March 8 — (P) — Controversy raged in the Illinois legislature today over proposals which one opponent said would "torpedo" the statewide school reorganization program.

More than 400 rural and small town residents from McLean and adjacent counties packed the House chamber to witness an education committee hearing on two bills to revise reorganization procedures.

Loud cheers and whistles came from the jammed galleries as Rep. Homer Caton (R-Stanford) defended the measures sponsored by himself and several other lawmakers. Some persons testifying against the measures were booed.

One of the bills, submitted by Caton and Rep. Fred J. Hart (R-Streator), would permit compact areas with 1,000 residents to form community unit school districts. Present law requires 2,000 residents.

The other proposes a change in the referendum provision of the 1947 community school law. It provides that votes on a reorganization plan be tallied by precincts set up by the county superintendent, with each high school district making up one or more precincts. The proposition would be lost unless it carried in every such precinct.

The committee postponed indefinitely a decision on whether to recommend the bills for passage.

Training Briefs

Clearwater, Fla., March 8 — (P) — Richie Ashburn, fleet young Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder, was knocked out by a thrown ball today as he tried to score from third base on a wild pitch by Charlie Bicknell.

Catcher Ken Silverstri, who had to run back to the stands to recover the pitch, made the throw to Bicknell, who was covering the plate, and the ball hit Ashburn above the right eye.

Dr. Edwin A. Talbot of Joliet, Ill., who was in the stands, examined Ashburn and had him sent to Clearwater hospital for 24 hours observation. The doctor said there were no superficial signs of a skull fracture though Ashburn appeared to be seriously hurt. There was a cut above his eye.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 8 — (P) — Joe DiMaggio sat on the bench today and the New York Yankees regulars took a 8 to 4 licking from the club rookies in a practice baseball game.

DiMaggio, the club's No. 1 star, was idle because of blisters on four toes, suffered when he inserted arch supports and new inner soles into his baseball shoes during a brief morning drill.

DiMaggio likely will not be in shape to play until early next week, missing the first two exhibitions with the St. Louis Cardinals this weekend.

Los Angeles, March 8 — (P) — Manager Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs will present a reshuffled lineup of regulars for the first intra-squad game of the season at Wrigley field tomorrow.

The batting order will be: Harry Walker, right field; Frankie Gustine, third base; Phil Cavarretta, first base; Andy Pafko, center field; Cliff Aberson, left field; Bob Schiffling, catcher; Emil Verban, second base and Roy Smalley, shortstop. The 1948 holdovers are Scheffing and Smalley.

Cavarretta and Pafko have reversed their fields.

Not a single choice was unanimous. Eight players received between four and six first-team votes. Three 1948 All-Stars failed to repeat.

Title winning Illinois and runner-up Minnesota, which battled for the title almost down to the wire, landed only one performer each, as did Wisconsin, Michigan, and Ohio State.

The Illinois honored was guard Bill Erickson, a terrific "money" player for the superbly balanced champions. Minnesota's member was the only All-Star sophomore, forward Meyer (Whitey) Skoog.

Rounding out the No. 1 quintet were center Don Rehfeldt of Wisconsin, the league scoring champion; guard Bob Harrison of Michigan, solo repeater from last season's AP team; and forward Dick Schnitker of Ohio State.

This combination, averaging almost 6-3 in height and a rugged poundage of 192, forced to the second team such players as forward Dwight Eddleman of Illinois and center Jim McIntyre of Minnesota, both 1948 All-Stars, and Purdue's brilliant Howie Williams.

Michigan's Pete Elliott, who, with Harrison, formed an all-Michigan honor guard tandem last season, dropped clear down to honorable mention this time.

Rehfeldt, only the sixth Big Nine player ever to top 200 points in a 12-game conference season, and the irrepressible Skoog led the balloting with 15 of 18 possible points. Each was named first choice by six coaches.

Wild Ducks, Geese On The Increase

Washington, March 8 — (P) — There apparently are a good many more wild ducks and geese this year than last, the Fish and Wildlife Service said today.

But the coot have declined in number so greatly the total 1949 waterfowl population is about the same as in 1948.

Albert M. Day, director of the agency, said the annual waterfowl inventory, taken in mid-January, brought to light the "encouraging increase" in ducks and geese, and the coot decline.

The government no longer lists waterfowl population figures.

Burbank, Calif., March 8 — (P) — Jerry Priddy, the St. Louis Browns' lone holdout, was a spectator today as the Winegarner squad defeated the Hofmann's 6 to 0 in the first intra-squad game of the season.

Priddy said after the game that he hadn't come to see Vice President Charles Dewitt about his contract. But Dewitt came onto the field and told Priddy:

"I thing that our offer to you is very fair. It is our final one."

Jacksonville reserve forces have been waiting for their pay for some time, but the first vouchers authorized by 1948 legislation came through Friday to officers and men of the 498th Replacement company. Major Harry A. Beckley, officer in charge of the Springfield sub-office, organized reserves, said the local unit was the first in this area to receive pay.

The checks were for the last quarter in 1948. Payment for this quarter is expected sometime in April. Reserve members receive one day's pay for each weekly training period attended.

Plan Interesting Program Saturday At REA Meeting

Winchester—Mixing pleasure with their business, the members of the Illinois Rural Electric Co. of Winchester will treat themselves to a lively program of music and an interesting address by John L. Strohm, editor, author, and world traveler. There will also be interesting reports and information for all members, at the annual meeting to be held March 12, 1949, starting at 10 a. m.

There will be a picnic lunch at noon, with Mrs. Karl Longenecker, as chairman, assisted by a number of the cooperative members.

JACKSONVILLE AUTO GOES ON STAMPEDE; METER POST LOSES

A 1937 Chevrolet evidently tired of its stall just north of the bus stop on North Main street early Tuesday evening. It rolled backwards down-grade, glided across the street and knocked off the support of parking meter No. 404 when it bounced across the slight curb near the Faust gas station. Several perplexed drivers managed to dodge the stampeding vehicle.

The car was the property of George Sidnor, 638 N. West street. He told investigating officers, Sgt. Spreen and Officer Runkel, as he made arrangements to pay for a new pipe for the unlucky meter, that he thought the car had been left in gear and with the brakes set.

Travel Note To The Girls: Plenty Of Men Out West

New York, March 8—(AP)—If you want a man, go west young lady, go west.

You'll have a better chance there. For the west now is the only region in the United States with more males than females.

The tip comes from the statistical bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Back in 1910, it says, there were 1,000 males in this country for every 1,000 females. By 1940, there were 1,007 males, and by 1947 the ratio was 892 males per 1,000 females.

For the first time in our history, there are fewer males than females in the population.

By regions in 1947, the picture was:

Northeast states—964 males per 1,000 females

North central states—966

South—993

West—1,035

West means the mountain and Pacific Coast states.

There's the matter of how old these males are. By ages, the male-female ratio in the nation in 1947 was:

Under 15 years—1,037 males per 1,000 females.

15 to 44 years—976 males.

45 years and over—978 males.

Greenfield Senior Wins FFA Public Speaking Contest

David Cole, Greenfield high school senior and president of the Greenfield chapter, Future Farmers of America, won first place in the Sec. R. E. Fetter of Burlington, Iowa, president of the Wartburg Synod, ULC, occupied the pulpit.

The congregation contemplates in 1950 the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the congregation and the 75th anniversary of the organization of the Wartburg Synod.

The church was redecorated by Schanbaker Decorating company of Springfield, the same concern that has always done the church's interior decorating.

In 1925 the church was entirely refurnished, with pews, altar and pulpit and accessory furnishings. Decorative work included work in included frontier art paintings, "The Transfiguration and the Sermon on the Mount," an oil painting by Klagstad, prominent Lutheran church artist, and the chancel window, in "Christ In Gethsemane, in brilliant art glass.

A year later a new Mueller two-manual tubular pneumatic organ was installed. Still later the church was electrified and art fixtures were installed. The latter were given by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Muech.

The church is also noted for its bell, an International 565 "A" pitch bell that may be heard as far as 10 miles away.

St. Peter's is the mother church of the Wartburg Synod and many of its pastors have been synod officers. Several of its youth have become ministers and many of the younger members have studied at the territorial church college Carthage at Carthage, Ill.

Indiana Approves Bonus For Vets

Indianapolis, March 8—(AP)—The Indiana legislature last night stopped its clocks on the last night of its biennial session to pass a veterans' bonus bill.

The Democratic-controlled House passed the measure 88-7 and the Republican-controlled Senate passed it 42-6.

Both parties favored the bonus but a long fight had developed over the means of financing it. Indiana's constitution forbids the state going into debt. The means selected was an increase in state gross income tax rates.

Three Boy Scout Troops Conduct First Aid Meet

The neighborhood first aid meet of Boy Scout troops 101, 111 and 113 was conducted Tuesday evening at the Congregational church. Two five-member patrols from each troop participated.

Three hypothetical problems, involving broken bones, burns and bleeding ears and elbows were solved by the boys. Problems were announced by the judges, Miss Ethel Swanson, F. R. Rawlings, Russel L. Vernon, Ralph Reiss, R. W. Watt and Don Caldwell.

Results, presented by Don Caldwell, neighborhood commissioner, are as follows: Troop 101—Apache patrol with 88 per cent and a B rating, and Lone Star patrol with 99 per cent and a B rating. Troop 113, Cobra patrol with 90 per cent and an A rating, and Flying Eagle patrol, 99 per cent and A rating.

The host troop, number 111, was represented by the Flying Arrow patrol with 97 per cent and an A rating, and the Pine Street patrol with 90 per cent and a B rating.

Home For Blind Women To Mark 3rd Anniversary

The Mary Bryant Home, 107 East Lawrence avenue, Springfield, will on March 12 reach its third anniversary of service to the needy blind women of Illinois. It was founded with funds raised by and chiefly among the alumni of the Illinois School for the Blind in Jacksonville, supplemented by a bequest of $3,500 left in 1921 by Mary Bryant, a graduate of the school.

Mrs. Margaret C. Howse, secretary of the Mary Bryant Home Association, was a visitor in Jacksonville recently in connection with business of the home. She gave a number of interesting facts concerning the home and the association which supports it.

"The first Mary Bryant Home was opened in Springfield in January, 1946," Mrs. Howse stated, "In November, 1949, the original home which would accommodate only eight women was sold and a larger building was purchased. Considerable alterations on this new building were necessary, but this work is now completed and additional residential residents are being admitted.

"It is the desire of the Mary Bryant Home Association to provide a home for every needy blind woman of Illinois, and with this thought in mind we are enlisting the interest and cooperation of all communities.

"The association will be grateful for new memberships, gifts, pledges or provisions in will for its endowment fund. The Mary Bryant Home is non-sectarian and is incorporated under the not-for-profit laws of Illinois.

Mrs. Howse said that it is hoped that Mary Bryant home units may be opened in several other cities in Illinois.

Home For Blind Women To Mark 3rd Anniversary

The Mary Bryant Home, 107 East Lawrence avenue, Springfield, will on March 12 reach its third anniversary of service to the needy blind women of Illinois. It was founded with funds raised by and chiefly among the alumni of the Illinois School for the Blind in Jacksonville, supplemented by a bequest of $3,500 left in 1921 by Mary Bryant, a graduate of the school.

Mrs. Margaret C. Howse, secretary of the Mary Bryant Home Association, was a visitor in Jacksonville recently in connection with business of the home. She gave a number of interesting facts concerning the home and the association which supports it.

"The first Mary Bryant Home was opened in Springfield in January, 1946," Mrs. Howse stated, "In November, 1949, the original home which would accommodate only eight women was sold and a larger building was purchased. Considerable alterations on this new building were necessary, but this work is now completed and additional residential residents are being admitted.

"It is the desire of the Mary Bryant Home Association to provide a home for every needy blind woman of Illinois, and with this thought in mind we are enlisting the interest and cooperation of all communities.

"The association will be grateful for new memberships, gifts, pledges or provisions in will for its endowment fund. The Mary Bryant Home is non-sectarian and is incorporated under the not-for-profit laws of Illinois.

Mrs. Howse said that it is hoped that Mary Bryant home units may be opened in several other cities in Illinois.

City School Board Employs Teachers, Janitors For Year

Teachers and janitors were employed for the school year of 1949-50 under the present salary schedule at Tuesday night's meeting of the Jacksonville Board of Education.

The board also accepted the bid of the Crawford Lumber company for 6,500 board feet of maple flooring needed to resurface David Prince gym. The firm's quotation, $1,782.15, was the lowest of four received. The new floor will be laid this summer.

Policies regarding solicitations for money in the schools were discussed during the meeting. City Superintendent D. R. Blodgett, in his report to the group, observed that "Since the schools are a convenient place to collect money for various campaigns, the superintendent is approached frequently to collect money from and through the pupils. While it is desirable for pupils to assume some community responsibilities and participate in drives, there is a problem in keeping such collections within reasonable limits."

The board voted that no future solicitations should be permitted in the schools.

Superintendent Blodgett also reported to the board the activities of the regional conference of the American Association of School Administrators, which was held in St. Louis from Feb. 27-Mar. 2.

Margaret Offered Chance To Sing In Harvard Show

Cambridge, Mass., March 8—(AP)—Miss Margaret Truman has a chance to sing where no woman has in 101 years—the high-toned Hasty Pudding Club show.

So far she hasn't said yes and she hasn't said no.

It may be that the president's daughter cannot commit herself to a flat stand on that ancient choice which has divided many great houses—Harvard or Yale.

Because that is definitely the string to the offer made by Alan Winslow, president of the elegant male kingdom which for more than a century at Harvard has welcomed the spring with an annual production which has been womanless.

Winslow told Miss Truman in a letter:

"You can sing one of the catchy songs from the show or anything of your own selection, providing, of course that it isn't a Yale song."

Nevada Legislator Offers Mechanical 'Divorce Mill'

Carson City, Nev., March 8—(AP)—A veteran legislator has proposed exactly that, so lawyers could be returned to the sphere of "useful citizens."

Assemblyman C. C. Boak, Nevada Republican, didn't crack a smile when he introduced his bill. He said it would not only solve the Nevada divorce business—which isn't bad—but would increase the slot machine take and boom the silver industry.

Under legislator Boak's bill, it would work like this:

Divorce seekers reaching Nevada would register for a $5 fee. This fee would buy each a special key to a combination juke box, time clock and slot machine.

They would be required to use their keys on the machines for 42 consecutive days. This would automatically record the fact they had spent the statutory six weeks in the state, necessary for divorce.

On the 42nd day the divorce seeker would insert in his machine 200 specially coined dollars, minted of Nevada silver.

Lights would flash. Wheels would spin. The juke box section would give forth the first two lines of "America."

As the music died away, a pretty divorce decree would pop out of a slot. It would be complete with multi-colored ribbons, the imprint of the great seal of Nevada, and the signature of the district judge. The Nevada lawmakers placed the proposal on the desk of the chief clerk—for action, they said, "at an appropriate time."

Won't Televis Prep Cage Finals

Chicago, March 8—(AP)—State basketball final tournament games at Champaign will not be televised, Al Willis, secretary of the Illinois High School Association, said today.

There have been numerous reports games would be televised. Willis said they would not, first because no one offered to sponsor the program; and second because part of a beam running from Champaign to Ogden, from Ogden to Danville, where it picks up the Coaxial television cable, is not in operation now. This was used during University of Illinois football games last fall.
